7 AMERICAN LINERS AMONG 25 NOW CROSSING OCEAN

All Vessels Crowded, Three of One Company Taking 3,505 Persons Abroad.

Twenty-five steamships are shown on the chart to-day, including seven flying the Stars and Stripes, an unusually large number, and every one thronged with passengers. The trio of the International Mercantile fleet that sailed or Saturday-the White Star liners Cedric (D-1) and Baltic (D-3) and the American liner Philadelphia (D-5)-have aboard 1,440 cabin and 2,065 third class, or steerage, travellers, all that could be accommodated. Many unable to get quarters in the cabins were forced to travel third class, and the exodus was the largest since the beginning of the spring rush.

The bookings on all steamships eastbound for several months to come have eclipsed all records, considering the limted number of liners in transatlantic service, and even steerage accommodans, which now are almost as high as
